Guerrillas Execute Kidnaped American

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The Tupamaro guerrillas executed American police expert Daniel A. Mitrone during the night because the Uruguayan government refused to release an estimated 150 political prisoners as ransom for him and two other kidnaped foreign officials.

Mitrone's body was found bound and gagged in a bloodstained car parked on city street. He had been shot twice in the head. A bandage covered the chest wound he suffered when he was kidnaped July 31 while driving to work.

Police sealed off the area, removed the body from the car and declined to say where they had taken it. They refused to give official confirmation that it was Mitrone's, but police officials told newsmen there was little or no doubt.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman announced later that the body had been identified by a friend as that of Mitrone.

Unconfirmed reports circulated that a second body had been found, but the police said nothing.

The car in which the body was found was left parked at an intersection in a poor worker's residential section. The car was an old American-made model which had been stolen Sunday. Police closed off the intersection, declaring it a "military zone."

People living in the area said they had heard two shots about 1:30 a.m. They did not hear a car driving off, indicating that the Tupamaros had departed on foot. Apparently, no one investigated immediately, and the police said a passing police patrol car made the discovery a few hours later.

Witnesses who saw the body before police rushed it away said the hair was black. This apparently made first identification uncertain. Mitrone, a tall, heavy-set man, had white hair. The Tupamaros apparently dyed it to facilitate hiding Mitrone during his 10 days of captivity.

Mitrone apparently was killed more than 12 hours after the Sunday noon deadline set by the Tupamaros for his execution. They had said they would kill him because President Jorge Pacheco Areco refused to free an estimated 150 political prisoners as ransom for Mitrone and two other foreigners kidnaped by the leftist guerrilla organization.

The Tupamaros have said nothing about what they plan to do with their other captives—Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, 41, and Claude Fly, 65, of Fort Collins, Colo., a U.S. oil expert working for the Uruguayan government.

Dias Gomide was kidnaped July 31, the day Mitrone was seized. Fly was kidnaped last Friday.

Mitrone, 50-year-old former police chief of Richmond, Ind., is the second foreigner killed in the wave of Latin-American political kidnappings that began last September. Guatemalan rebels murdered the West German ambassador, Count Karl von Spreti, last April after the Guatemalan government refused to release 17 political prisoners.

One man, the copilot, survived. He was found in the wreckage of the cockpit.

Most of the passengers had flown to Cuzco, the ancient Inca capital 365 miles southeast of Lima, for an excursion to the Inca ruins at nearby Machu Picchu.

After the day of sightseeing, the plane had just taken off from Cuzco for Lima when one of its four turboprop engines failed and the pilot, Capt. Alejandro Calegari, requested permission to return to Cuzco.

Crash Kills 49 U. S. Students

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A Peruvian airliner returning tourists from a visit to the Inca ruins at Machu Picchu crashed Sunday, killing 49 of the 100 persons aboard, including 49 young American exchange students. It was Peru's worst air disaster.

"They were typical United States high school students, the best that their communities could offer," said Mrs. Mildred M. Brown of Buffalo, N.Y., president of the International Fellowship, Inc., which sponsored the Peruvian visit by the youths.

Fifteen other youths decided to remain in Lima with the families with whom they had spent the summer, rather than make the trip to the ruins.

Several other Americans were aboard in addition to the students spending the summer in Peru under the sponsorship of International Fellowship Inc. of Buffalo, N.Y. But their exact number was uncertain.

International Fellowship received from the State Department a list of 49 of its

Sikestonians Speak

Nixon's Stock Rises With Mideast Ease Fire

By CHARLES BRADY "He's doing an excellent job considering the position he's in."

That was the consensus of the majority of 100 Sikeston citizens giving their views over the weekend on how President Richard M. Nixon is handling the chief executive office on the whole.

Citizens were asked to comment on the street and by telephone on the President and the major issues confronting the United States.

"He's done a great job since coming into office," one resident said. "He's been under a lot of pressure and he's come through time and again. If congress would just pass some of the measures Nixon sent them over a year ago, the situation here at home would be even better."

A total of 73 persons said they feel Nixon is doing a good to excellent job as chief executive, 20 think he is doing a poor job, and seven refused to comment.

In a poll taken last month by the Daily Standard, only 55 per cent of those asked to comment on Nixon's performance as President rated him good.

The main reason for the upswing in favor of Nixon, according to citizens, is the apparent success in the Middle East cease fire between Arab nations and Israel, the apparent slack in fighting in Vietnam, and Nixon's anti-crime legislation.

Sikestonians were asked to comment on the Middle East, Asia, law and order, the economy, pollution, and student unrest.

Of 75 residents asked about Nixon's handling of the Middle East 69 said Nixon is doing a good job.

Comments from residents: "For the life of me, I can't see why the policy Nixon applied in the Middle East wasn't done before. It doesn't seem to take that much brains to make the decision he made. Maybe it just took courage. Perhaps no one thought it was important enough before."

"It's about time something was done. He may have stopped World War III from happening."

A citizen who disagreed with Nixon said: "I believe we should let Israel take care of themselves. We should stay away from there (the Mideast) entirely."

Concerning the conflict in Southeast Asia, 32 of 55 citizens said they thought the president was doing a fine job.

A citizen comments: "It's encouraging to see some action finally being taken. It took guts to go into Cambodia even though he (Nixon) knew there would be a lot of fuss about it. Cambodia was a success and it looks like the withdrawal process, Vietnamization, and the chances for a volunteer army will also be a success. I'm glad to see someone of Nixon's caliber running the show."

A person who disagreed said: "He's not working fast enough. We should have immediate withdrawal (from Vietnam)."

A total of 60 persons were asked about Nixon's anti-crime measures and 54 said they thought Nixon was doing a good job.

Comments from citizens: "It's time someone got tough. The courts have been too weak. Perhaps we can begin to sleep a little better now."

"All this talk about the no-knock provision and not allowing some charged with a crime out of jail on bail being against a person's rights is a lot of bull. It seems to me the only ones who would object are those who have something to hide. The police won't just go into anyone's home and the courts won't stop everyone from being let off on bail. Of course, the new law applies to only Washington (D.C.) now but the whole country needs it. Some mistakes will be made but that's only human. But it seems to me the good that will come will far outweigh the bad."

A resident who disagreed said: "I think Nixon's anti-crime ideas are more harmful than good. I don't think he knows what he's doing."

The President received the poorest rating from citizens on the issue of the economy. Out of 55 residents speaking on the issue, only 29 said they thought Nixon was doing a good job.

"Since the President came into office, we have seen little done about the economy," a citizen who disagreed with Nixon's handling of the economy said. "Inflation is still too high."

A person who agreed with Nixon's handling of the economy said:

"He has introduced legislation to combat inflation but congress seems reluctant to act. Really there's not much he (Nixon) can do. It really is up to the people. We need to cut down on spending for things that we can get for lower prices and businessmen need to stop raising prices. A large part of it is up to the businessmen, laborers, and housewives."

A total of 56 out of 65 persons said they thought Nixon was doing a good job on the issue of pollution.

Comments from a citizen: "I hear he has sent congress some anti-pollution proposals. I hope they're passed."

A citizen who disagreed said: "Look what happened on the east coast. Nixon hasn't done anything yet."

On campus unrest, 39 of 50 residents said they thought Nixon was doing okay.

Comments from citizens: "I don't think the President has done anything wrong in his dealing with students. The unrest isn't his fault. The blame should go to ineffectual college president, faculties, and administrations."

"Students say they are concerned with the war. Who isn't? Even if there wasn't a war, we would still have protests until we get some better college administrations to put a stop to those hoodlums. Agnew knows what he's talking about when he speaks out against the ones who cause the violence. After all, the President is spending more than any President for Domestic needs since Roosevelt. For the first time since World War Two more money is spent for domestic needs than for defense."

A citizen who disagreed said: "We still have unrest and always will until the Vietnam war is over."

A Sikeston mother who said she has a 23-year old son who served for 3 years in Vietnam doesn't think America should be involved there.

"Nixon is doing all right, I guess," she said. "I am against the protesters although I think the war is wrong."

Cindy, a 12-year-old Sikestonian, said others her age that she had talked with agree more or less that Nixon is doing a good job.

"Yes, I think he is doing okay," she commented. "My folks feel the same way."

Army Promises Nerve Gas Shipment Will Be Its Last

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Army plans to embark today upon what it says will be its last mission to ship lethal nerve gas by rail for dumping in the Atlantic Ocean.

Trains carrying 418 concrete and steel jacketed vaults of nerve gas rockets—30 to the vault—were to leave Blue Grass Army Depot near Richmond, Ky., and Anniston, Ala., Army Depot for North Carolina to be loaded aboard a barge. It will be scuttled in waters 16,000 feet deep 282 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla.

The Army kept the routes secret but said the shipments would move through thinly populated areas. By highway, it is about 540 miles from Anniston and about 645 miles from Richmond to the North Carolina coast.

The Army said there is no danger of leakage from the vaults.

Army chemical experts will accompany the shipments and their mechanical gas-leak detectors will be backed up by 12 rabbits and 12 pigeons, highly sensitive to gas.

Army spokesmen said similar shipments in the future will be unnecessary because the Army is developing a method of decomposing the gas at the military bases where it is stored.

It said detonation of a 60 pound charge of dynamite beneath a vault would not damage it enough to allow gas to escape. The vaults are encased in quarter-inch armor plating.

Congressional sources said the Anniston train will pass through the Georgia cities of Bremen, Griffin, Macon and Athens before angling up through the Carolinas to an ocean terminal at Sunny Point, N.C.

The train is to move no faster than 35 miles per hour. A check of the rails was completed Saturday.

Few mayors have raised objections to the shipments and Gov. Lester Maddox, of Georgia offered to ride atop the train to demonstrate his confidence in the Army's safety precautions. The Army said it had no orders permitting him aboard.

But Rep. Tim Lee Carter, R-Ky., says he will be on the Blue Grass Depot train until it leaves Kentucky "to help allay fear among the residents" of his southeastern Kentucky district. He said he had Army authority to ride the train.

However, dissent has been expressed by a number of persons, among them Florida Gov. Claude Kirk, three congressmen from his state and

J. Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations.

Thant said disposal of the gas in international waters would violate a U.N. General Assembly resolution on pollution of the high seas. The State Department denied this.

Kirk and the congressmen appealed to Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird to halt the dumping, opposed by environmentalists who fear pollution of the ocean.

The Army contends that the ocean will render the gas harmless by dilution if salt water or pressure ever cracks the vaults.

The disposal plan was also criticized by consumer advocate Ralph Nader. He said the plan should not have been devised solely by the Army, but should have been considered by a broad range of scientists.

"I don't think that a problem with such potential cataclysmic effects on the population—whatever low probability that it may occur—should be one for the Army to decide," Nader said.

He appeared on the ABC program "Issues and Answers."

A British delegation containing representatives from the Bahamas and Bermuda also was coming to the United States to review the plan, because of island fears of ocean contamination. The U.S. Embassy in London said the gas will not be buried at sea before Aug. 18.

The Army had hoped to dispose of the rockets in an underground nuclear blast in Nevada but the proposal was rejected by the Atomic Energy Commission. The rockets are "unservicable" because their propellant charge has become

About 1,446 nerve gas vaults were sunk in the Atlantic between June 1967 and June 1968. The result was a storm of criticism from many sources, including the President's Council on Environmental Quality and a requirement that Congress be notified of such shipments.

The current shipment is marked by elaborate safety precautions.

Each train is to be preceded by a pilot train to check for defects in the rails or rail bed. The pilot trains carry decontamination teams, ambulances, the chemical detection unit and heavily armed security units.

The nerve gas vaults will travel in open gondola-type rail cars with signs warning that they contain poisonous gas.

Judicial System Updating Urged

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Chief Justice Warren E. Burger proposed today creation of a council representing all branches of the federal government to bring the nation's court system up to date.

"In the supermarket age," he said, "we are like a merchant trying to operate a cracker barrel corner grocery store with the methods and equipment of 1900."

Burger proposed updating of the judicial system and warned of expecting too much of the federal courts in his first state of the judiciary message to the American Bar Association.

The white-haired jurist said the courts need more money, judges and trained administrators and a streamlining of their trial and appeals processes to retain public confidence.

He questioned the priorities of a nation that spends $200 million to develop the C5A airplane and $128 million on its federal judicial system.

For at least 50 years, he said, the federal court system has had steadily increasing burdens.

"Some of this," he said, "is because of new laws and decisions and some because of a tendency that is unique to America to look to the courts to solve all problems."

At the same time, Burger said, much of the judicial machinery has grown obsolete.

Burger told the lawyers and judges they should give urgent consideration to asking Congress to create a new judiciary council which would report to all three branches of the federal government on a wide range of matters affecting federal courts.

For example, he said, it could report on caseloads in particular districts, propose creation of temporary judgeships to meet urgent situations and study the present jurisdiction of federal courts.

Burger said the council could have six members, with two appointed by the president, two by Congress and two by the U.S. Judicial Conference, which he heads.

But while advancing this and other possible reforms, Burger also cautioned that the federal court system "is for a limited purpose."

"People speak glibly of putting all the problems of pollution, of crowded cities, of consumer class actions and others in the federal courts," he said.

"We should look more to state courts familiar with local conditions and local problems."

The chief justice, whose address was broadcast and telecast nationally, said there is a widespread public complaint that the present system of criminal justice does not deter organizers, Johnny Brewer, had an argument and exchanged blows. Witnesses said Malone struck Brewer once and when Brewer tried to hit Malone, he reportedly missed and hit Mrs. Gene Yokley, wife of the Jaycee president.

No charges have been filed. Malone said two persons at the Joker's Lounge informed him who cut the tires.

Malone, who operates a crop dusting service at Hollifield Field near the scene of the scheduled Sept. 4-6 rock festival, told the hearing that a crowd spillover from the festival to his landing strip could cause problems.

Doyle Yocham, project engineer for Kaiser Engineers, told the Optimist club today the electric power plant at St. Jude Industrial Park at Marston was half completed and will take almost two years to complete.

Two huge circular concrete cells connected by a straight line made of concrete are now being sunk into the ground, near the river on the site, to a depth of 78 feet.

Yocham came to the New Madrid project from Guam, where Kaiser Engineers completed a project of 1,200 homes.

The Kaiser project near Marston employs between 500 and 600, and entails a cost of $100 million, while the Noranda Aluminum complex will cost $200 million. There are 2,000 concrete piling poured to support the 17-story electric plant structure.

The Noranda plant site now employs between 1,200 and 1,500.

In speaking of his responsibilities at the power plant project, Yocham said: "They are with the pump structure and all its facilities. Water is pumped into the large underground structures for cooling purposes, then returns

Nixon Environment Report Asks Development of Land Use Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) —

President Nixon today sent Congress a State of the Environment report urging the development of a national land use policy.

The report, prepared by the Council on Environmental Quality, may well be a preview of things to come, although too late for legislative action this year.

It recommends federal encouragement of planned and controlled land development, protecting areas of scenic and recreational value.

Economic incentives emerge throughout the wide-ranging report as one of the major tools to be used by the federal government in attacking environmental problems.

The costs of cleaning up environmental pollution, it emphasizes, must be allocated throughout society in the prices charged for products and services.

The report warns that man's activities are already altering the world's climate in ways that could bring on a catastrophe.

So little is known about this, however, that the Council was undecided whether it might emerge as a man-made ice age or—just the opposite effect—melting of the polar ice caps and flooding of large land areas.

In sending the report—the first of its kind—to Capitol Hill, Nixon reminded Congress of the major environmental proposals he has already submitted, which still await Congressional action.

But the Council, only half a year old and in practical operation scarcely four months, also offered some new proposals, giving special attention to the problems of land use.

It said the federal government should:

—Use existing project-approval authority to encourage cluster zoning and timed development.

—Direct federal sewer and water grants and open space acquisition "toward communities or project areas which will use them to control development rather than to those which merely respond to uncontrolled growth."

—Use home mortgage and interest subsidy programs "to encourage the proper siting and environmental compatibility" of new residential subdivisions.

—Emphasize acquisition of small parks and natural areas near cities.

—Protect "areas of special ecological significance."

Such recommendations, the report said, are only "aspects of a strategy" requiring broader development.

"Land use is still not guided by any agreed upon standards," it said. "It is instead influenced by a welter of sometimes competitive overlapping government institutions and programs, private and public attitudes and biases, and distorted economic incentives."

Nixon told Congress that "We have treated our land as if it were a limitless resource ... Today, we are coming to realize that our land is finite, while our population is growing ... Society as a whole has a legitimate interest in proper land use."

Nixon added, "I believe we must work toward development of a National Land Use Policy to be carried out by an effective partnership of Federal, State and local governments together, and, where appropriate, with new regional institutional arrangements."

Nixon Signs Bill Extending Unemployment to 4.7 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) —

President Nixon today signed a bill under which unemployment insurance will be extended to about 4.7 million more workers and extra benefits will be available in times of high unemployment.

Congress balked at proposals to bring employees of large farms under the unemployment insurance system, but it did vote to include other large groups not hitherto covered.

These include an estimated 2,121 million employees of nonprofit organizations, 1,132 million employees of smaller business firms, 940,000 employees of state hospitals and colleges, 210,000 salesmen, route drivers and similar workers, 190,000 persons engaged in processing agricultural products and 160,000

Americans employed abroad by U.S. firms.

The new law also provides for unemployment payments to be extended as much as 13 weeks, with federal help, when the national percentage of insured unemployment reaches 4.5 per cent, or in an individual state when the rate increases 20 per cent over the preceding year and is at least 4 per cent. The extra benefits would be effective generally beginning in 1972, but provision is made for states to start them sooner if they wish.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

"What has become of the old fashioned woman who tied stiff paper around her ankles, hidden by her long skirts, to give the rustling impression of silk petticoats?"

IT'S YOUR MONEY

A little noticed attack on a broad front against government employment practices deserves a bit of attention on the part of those who foot the bill to pay the salaries of government workers.

The attack is being waged through the courts by a group which may loosely be defined as the "new morality" cult- those who, in fact, have no morality; you "do your thing" without restraint, legal or ethical. But this code of misbehavior is coming into increasing conflict with long-standing codes of conduct for federal employment.

For example; an admitted homosexual has, by court action, prevented the Department of Defense from revoking his security clearance as an employee of an electronics firm handling defense contracts. His argument; since he is openly an acknowledged homosexual, the government does not have the right to deny him access to secret information.

A U.S. district court in San Francisco ruled that the post office department was "arbitrary and capricious" when it discharged a postal clerk for living with a girl who was not his wife. You may recall the widely publicized case of the former FBI clerk who was fired by J. Edgar Hoover for admittedly sharing his bed with a girl not married to him. But did you know that the U.S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia ruled that the FBI could not fire the man without first "proving" that he had violated "ordinarily expected standard of personal conduct; and that the Government paid him $3,000 and allowed him to "resign" from the FBI?

As a taxpayer, what sort of people do you want working for you? If you don't care, don't bother; but if you are concerned with where your tax money is going and what it is doing, it would not be a bad idea to write to your congressman in Washington and insist that government employment should be restricted to those of high moral conduct. And if the question should be raised as to what yardstick to follow - how about the Ten Commandments as a starter?

A girl may have 10 brothers, but her opinion of men is derived from reading of those in novels.

Something new was once discovered in Sikeston; a girl who thought her brothers were the nicest boys in the world.

THIS SMOGGY WORLD

Smog has become a knife at modern man's throat. From New York to Tokyo, people are rubbing red eyes and trying to ease raw throats as an oppressive blanket of smog smothers their cities. A group of international scientists warned last February that "a global crisis exists with respect to environmental quality" - and the summer smog has proven it.

In midtown New York, a secretary comes in out of the smog and says: "After I came to work today, I felt like I should take out my whole respiratory system and wash it." In Sydney, Australia, a wave of noxious industrial gas envelopes the city with the odor of rotten eggs. In Mexico City, the smog is so heavy morning visibility is often less than a block. And in Tokyo, 8,803 people were treated in hospitals for throat, lung and eye ailments over a ten-day period.

Smog and air pollution are also problems behind the Iron Curtain. "Our forests, fields and gardens are becoming quieter and quieter," laments Komsomolskaya Pravda. "Where have the birds gone? Palls of soft coal smoke hung over the cities of Eastern Europe last winter.

Increasing industrialization of the world is the major cause of air pollution. Exhaust from cars, trucks and buses is responsible for about 60 per cent of the problem in the entire United States and as much as 85 per cent in some cities such as Los Angeles and Washington. Industry is the second largest air polluter with the three biggest offenders being petroleum refineries, smelters and iron foundries. Power plants rank next in line.

But long before the invention of the automobile, smogs was menacing man. The National Geographic Society reports that in 300 B.C., an anti-feminist Chinese poet dubbed it "the woman's wind," saying: "It shakes (man) with coughing; it kills him before his time."

Smog became a clear and present danger in the post-World War II era. On the morning of Oct. 26, 1948, the skies at Donora, Pa., delivered a deadly warning of things to come. During the next four days nearly half the 14,000 residents became sick, and 20 died. On Dec. 5, 1952, smog enveloped London - and deaths increased by 4,000 over normal levels. And during Thanksgiving week in 1966, another killer smog caused 80 deaths on the eastern seaboard of the United States.

Some scientists are convinced smog is affecting the world's weather by decreasing sunlight and cooling the earth's surface. Such a decline in sunlight could have far-reaching effects since the amount of sunlight regulates the growth of plants and crops. The Smithsonian Institution has found that sunlight reaching Washington has been cut by 16 per cent over the past half century.

The International Biological Program disclosed plans for a global early-warning system capable of detecting pollutants in the air. Following the latest smog attack, Japan has decided to form a national environmental disruption control headquarters. Automobiles have been banned from major Tokyo shopping areas on Sundays and holidays. The Russians are working with an experimental electric furnace for use in oil and metal refineries.

President Nixon, describing air pollution as "our most serious environmental problem," recommended on Feb. 18 that controls be tightened. But measures to reduce the hazards of air pollution are constantly being offset by increases in the sources of pollution - more autos, more and larger power plants and more industry.

It is hard to distinguish people who are trying to "work" you from those who admire you.

RAILROAD MANAGEMENT AND LABOR MUST COOPERATE WITH A FULL MEASURE OF SELF-HELP

1. Railroad managers must make a thorough self-assessment of the industry's major shortcomings. In particular, railroads must improve their record for working together on internal problems, using arbitration machinery, wherever possible, to iron out intra-industry disputes.

2. Railroads have not shown a uniform dedication to quality service and customer needs. They must improve their marketing research, concentrate on better techniques for profit analysis, and recruit more aggressively in colleges and business schools.

3. The railroad problem will not be resolved without complete labor-management teamwork. Railroad labor, therefore, must approach the bargaining table with statesmanship in dealing with the need to achieve better use of manpower and to realize the benefits which can result from advances in technology.

And there was the coach who admonished his team before the game:

FEEDING MOTHERS AND INFANTS

Each year, approximately 25 out of every 1,000 babies born in this country die before age one. Recent statistics show that the infant mortality rate is roughly 300 per cent higher for poor Blacks, American Indians and other disadvantaged groups than it is for middle and upper class whites. Likewise, there are at least 130,000 mentally retarded babies born each year; the rate for poor infants is 3 to 5 times higher than that for the more affluent.

An important cause of infant mortality and disease among the poor is insufficient and un nourishing food. Maternal nutrition is a cumulative process, beginning before the mother's birth and continuing through the birth of her own children. It is especially important during pregnancy. A mother's lack of essential proteins, vitamins and minerals often means that her infant will be born prematurely and with fewer brain cells, a smaller brain and damaged nervous tissue. Infants receiving inadequate nutrition during the first two years of life may suffer some permanent physical or mental impairment.

In an attempt to improve maternal and infant nutrition, the Agriculture Department has started an experimental program which provides free food to babies, and expectant and nursing mothers. In late July, the program will go into effect in Brazos County, Texas. It is already operating in Chicago, Yakima County, Wash., and Bibb County Ga. Under the program, an expectant mother, from the start of pregnancy until one year after the birth of her child, receives $5 in coupons each month for milk. After the birth, she obtains an additional $10 for formula, milk and cereal. As of June 1970, about 7,000 poor persons had taken part. If it proves successful, this relatively small experimental program may be expanded. The money required for a comprehensive battle against maternal and infant malnutrition would be far less than the human as well as the economic costs of doing nothing.

NEW YORK (AP) - Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

What is it women really want?

This question has created a great deal of honest male bewilderment in the wake of the new women's liberation movement.

Among the stated aims of the movement are these: child care centers, equal pay for equal work, an end to job discrimination, abortion on demand, equality with men at every level, and a refusal to be treated as mere sexual objects.

While some of these aims are laudable, and some debatable, others probably aren't even desired by a majority of women themselves.

"I don't want to be put on a par with men," said a practical unmarried young lady of my acquaintance. "Then I'd have to do everything myself. I like the system as it works now. If I need something done, I can get some guy to do it for me."

What puzzles the average man most, however, is why women should want to be equal with him when he already feels he is unequal to them. Do they want to turn the clock backward?

The liberation-seeking ladies protest the chauvinism of the American male, but to the men of the rest of the world the American man is an object of ridicule for what they feel is his abject servility to women.

While he is still waddling around in his diapers, a little boy is able to punch a toy-stealing little girl in the mouth as if she were just another ordinary human being. As bin kindergarten he is taught that little girls are superior and extraordinary human beings made of delicate fibers. He is browbeaten or bottomspanked into saluting them, and he goes on saluting human beings.

But in kindergarten he is taught that little girls are superior and extraordinary human beings made of delicate fibers, spanked into saluting them, and he goes on saluting them until the end of his days. The female sex gains an edge on him it never loses.

It is not men but women who have the better union in America.

A man is expected to light a woman's cigarette for her, leap to his feet when she enters or leaves a room, push both his and her way through revolving doors, buy her lunches and coffee.

A man is also expected to marry a woman when she wants him to, name his kids after her side of the family, and work himself to death earning the money to buy her a bigger car, a nicer home, more expensive vacation trips, and a better hair dryer than the wife next door has.

When he does die, it is further expected of him that he will have had the gallantry and foresight to leave her enough money so that she can spend comfortably, if not luxuriously, the seven or eight years of widowhood she will enjoy before joining him in his tomb-the one she chose, not him.

Does all this sound like he created her like a mere sexual object?

What do women really want? There are days when the average man feels that what they want is "all there is and whatever is left."

Whatever they want, men don't have it. They've been giving everything they had to it women for quite some time now.

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON - The Nixon administration is close to signing an agreement with NATO nations that could revolutionize auto safety and reduce the slaughter on the highways.

Under the pact, the NATO allies not only would exchange safety research but would conduct joint experiments.

A U.S. study team, for example, is interested in British device that would automate safety belts. British scientists have developed an safety belt that reaches out and embraces the driver like a bride on a honeymoon the moment he settles behind the wheel.

For the benefit of the daredevil who doesn't buckle his safety belt, the loving arm encircles him automatically.

The Americans believe this may be superior for drivers to the air bags they have developed. These bags are designed so they will balloon in the driver's face within .004 of a second after the first shock of a crash and cushion him from the impact.

In tests with balloons, however, the air bags sometimes didn't inflate fast enough to save the animals from crashing their heads against the windshield. The researchers also worry that the air bag could be triggered by mistake, thus immobilizing the driver and causing an accident. They may still have value for passengers, if not for drivers.

ADVANCE DIAGNOSIS
The Americans are also studying a telemetry system, now being tested in Europe, which would signal an accident victim's condition ahead to the hospital while he is still in the ambulance.

An ambulance technician plants an electronic device on the chest of the victim en route to the hospital. This permits doctors to monitor the injured man's heart and to instruct the technician by two-way radio how to keep him alive.

As part of the proposed agreement, Britain, France, Italy and West Germany would develop experimental cars in the 2,000-pound class to test safety features. The U.S. has already gone ahead with experimental cars in the 4,000-pound class.

Confidential fact sheets, prepared for Transportation Secretary John Volpe, explain that the Europeans and Americans would share the test data on these cars. The research on the 2,000 pounders would cover Volkswagens, Renault, Simca, Fiat and other European models.

The Americans have made it clear in the secret negotiations that foreign car makers must cooperate in this "Experimental Safety Vehicle" program if they expect to continue importing cars into the United States. For 13 per cent of all cars on U.S. roads are foreign models, and they have higher fatality rates than the larger American models.

At the express order of President Nixon, U.S. safety embassies have been sent to Europe to organize joint safety studies within the NATO framework. This is the first step in the President's plan to seek NATO cooperation on pollution, housing and other social problems. He hopes to broaden the scope of NATO from a strictly political and military organization.

Volpe, accordingly, has twice dispatched a trusted assistant, deputy safety director Robert Brenner, to negotiate with America's allies. The agreement about to be signed would save an estimated $20 million in research duplication.

KENNEDY'S CHANCES
The White House privately had conceded the re-election of Senator Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., when his two teenage nephews were arrested last week in a drug raid. Robert Kennedy Jr. and Sargent Shriver III were accused of participating in a pot party.

This might stir enough anti-Kennedy whispering, say presidential politicians, to revive the chances of electing a Republican. But they are dubious. In their latest secret polls, taken before the marijuana raid, Senator Kennedy led all rivals with an impressive 70 per cent.

This persuaded the White House that the memory of Chappaquiddick had faded, except around Chappaquiddick itself where Kennedy polled only 50 per cent.

White House political aides decided Kennedy had such a commanding lead that it would be wasteful to pour money into a campaign to defeat him. Now they are reconsidering.

WIDNALL HITS BACK
For naming 23 Congressmen who voted behind closed doors to prevent the taxpayers from recovering $2 billion a year in padded profits from defense contractors, this column was assailed on the House floor last week by Rep. Bill Widnall, R-N.J.

He called the story "an insidious attack upon 23 members from both parties" and accused me of using "innuendo and clever abstraction to imply wrongdoing." Then he got down to specifics.

He claimed that the House bill was "responsive" to the recommendations of Admiral Hyman Rickover who for seven years has been trying to tighten the Pentagon's bookkeeping to prevent defense contractors from overcharging.

Widnall's statement is a flat-out lie. Rickover favored the Senate bill, which passed by a 69-1 vote. He opposed the complex House bill.

Widnall said the $2 billion figure, cited in the column, was "insupportable." The $2 billion estimate was made by Rickover, who quoted his lowest calculation. The full overcharge, which the defense contractors get away with every year, maybe as high as $4 billion.

Bill Widnall has a record of championing the special interests and camouflage his true purpose with pink prose. His House speech, attacking this column's revelations, was in character.

curriculum. These radicals strike out at every aspect of the military in our country, without trying to discern the value of any individual part. They seek to impose their views on everyone else by hindering those who see value in ROTC and wish to participate in the program.

On at least one campus, however, the administration refused to heed demands that ROTC be abolished. Purdue University President Frederick Hovde issued a statement upholding the value of ROTC and promising that the program would continue.

In a statement on the floor of the House of Representatives, Congressman Earl Landgrebe of Indiana praised Dr. Hovde's stand and also emphasized the importance of the ROTC.

program. As Representative Landgrebe pointed out, a country must have a military and these forces must have officers. "By recruiting its officers from our civilian campus," he continued, "our armed forces will continue to draw many officers from among those educated at our great universities." He added: "In fact, the continuation of ROTC insures the American tradition of civilian control of the military."

Many young men have found the training they received in ROTC programs to be very valuable, and ROTC graduates have served their country well in the armed forces. Congress should refuse to grant federal funds to any college or university which abolishes the ROTC. HLH

THE UNSHAKABLE DIRECTOR: Destruction of America's Freedom Would Turn the World Into Vast Prison

Through the decades J. Edgar Hoover has built and led the world's finest crime fighting force. Of course he has his critics. Which leader hasn't? But most of us who have been over and covered Scotland Yard in London, Interpol and the French Surete in Paris, as well as other national law enforcement agencies as far off as Tokyo, do attest to his objectivity in fighting the neo-left as well as the Ku Klux Klan. The record is there. FBI agents have been - and are - frequently inches from hooded klanmen in dead of night, from KGB agents, from crime syndicate killers and from maniacal hijackers.

The record is there in the FBI's swift capture of the assassin of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.; the exposure of those who burn anti-Catholic crosses, the foreign agents in some UN missions, and the indictment and conviction of more than half of the topmost leadership of the national "mob."

I asked the FBI's Director, an old and good friend, for his views of today's strange turbulence. Here is his reply written exclusively for this column:

By John Edgar Hoover
Director; Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington - Last fall a two-line item appeared in one of the local papers under the heading, "Compass Goggles Help German Flee." No names were given. The item, as defined in Hamburg, Germany, October 13, stated that a 25-year-old East German swam to freedom. Harbor officials advised that the man had stayed submerged for six hours while, using a snorkel, he swam under the waters of the Baltic Sea to the haven of a Danish lightsail. The concluding sentence stated matter-of-factly that: "The swimmer had a compass built into his goggles to guide him from the East German port of Rostock to the lightsail Gedeon last Friday."

Only two lines, yet those two lines set forth an epic of ingenuity, endurance and courage. Only a few words, yet words which etch once more upon the world's conscience the endless yearning of mankind to be free - to escape tyranny even at the risk of death.

For centuries men looked to America as their lightsail - their loophole of escape from tyranny. Freedom for the individual was the powerful magnet which drew millions of new citizens to these shores.

That magnificent magnet - the freedom Americans enjoy today - still asserts its powerful pull. The Lightsail America remains a welcoming haven to millions who fled - and still strive to flee - the gastly totalitarian tyrannies we have seen develop over past decades. Some of those tyrannies survive today, holding their victims in silence behind glaring spotlights, barbed wire, bleak walls and deadly mine fields. The tragic drama of those forced to live under the iron fist of the tyrannical state is highlighted each time an ingenious freedom-seeker gambles his life in an attempt to escape through the mine fields, or by crashing long hours beneath the cold waters of the sea.

Those who escape the repressions of the tyrannical state know the true meaning of freedom. Unfortunately, many people born to the blessings of liberty take their freedom for granted. There is another group, as we have witnessed in the growing number of instances, which derides and mocks and seeks to destroy the very institutions which insure the survival of their freedom.

Too many of America's youthful citizens who are inheritors of that which, in Jefferson's words, "...is most valuable to man, his right to self-government..." have not learned the value of their great gift. Nor have they been taught self-discipline or imbued with a sense of individual responsibility, both of which are essential if self-government is to survive. This limited group of youthful Americans has exchanged the compass of reason, objectivity, and knowledge.

Should we neglect that compass - should we choose instead to be guided by emotion, naivete, and biased or superficial information - we shall ultimately destroy our own free government. If that happens, the last loophole of escape from tyranny will be closed and the Lightsail America itself will become a prison.

Curiosity About 'Former Neighbor' Satisfied by 'She's a Lesbian.'

Dear Ann Landers: I'm in such a state of shock I can hardly write this letter. This afternoon I met a former neighbor on the street. We were always good friends and our children grew up together. In the course of the conversation (on the sidewalk, mind you) she mentioned having gone to Pittsburgh to attend a nephew's wedding. It was then that I asked a perfectly innocent question -- why her very attractive, well-educated 31-year-old daughter has never married. The woman looked at me straight in the eye and said, "Because she is a Lesbian."

I was so stunned I didn't know how to respond. Why would a mother admit something like this? I can't get over it. What is this world coming to? -- Still Speechless

Dear S.S.: My guess is the lady was giving you the needle for asking such a nunnyverblizzniz type question. Her shocking response was calculated to melt your bridgework -- and obviously she succeeded.

Dear Ann Landers: What's the matter with me? Am I super-energetic, giant-hearted or just plain nuts? Whenever I go to a party I can't enjoy myself as a guest. I always have to empty ash-trays, serve drinks, work in the kitchen -- as if I were a paid employee. Why can't I be a guest like everyone else? Sometimes I find myself working when there is plenty of catered help and even the hostess is relaxing and enjoying herself.

I'm beginning to question my motives. What might appear to be a desire to "help" may be something quite different -- such as the need to be needed. Can you explain this to me? -- Dizzy Janice

Dear Dizz: You've explained it to yourself. Your feelings of insecurity have trailed you from childhood. Your compulsion to be "useful" is in reality at attempt to justify your presence at the party. Working in the kitchen or busying yourself with the ice cubes can also serve a second purpose. It can provide Across a barren land, scarred by centuries of war and neglect, the spectres of ancient Israel appear, hover, and fade away. Suddenly there is a movement of a different sort, and slowly, steadily, a startling transformation begins to take place.

Thus begins "HIS LAND," the thrilling story of Israel from ancient to modern times. "HIS LAND," a one-hour color feature motion picture, takes you on a journey through space, time and current events. You see graphically, the fact that Israel today is a living testimony to the words of the prophets when they proclaimed that Israel would take her place among the nations of the world.

In the company of Cliff Barrows and Cliff Richard, England's popular star, who sings a number of new Ralph Carmichael songs, some of which were actually written on location, you travel the vibrant streets and lonely solitary paths of this nation whose destiny is daily discussed in the councils of governments all over the world... the same paths taken by Jesus and the prophets: Galilee... the wilderness... Jerusalem... the Mount of Olives... mingle with the people of modern Israel as they work, play and build a nation.

Words of Scripture come to life as the two men reflect upon the events that in recent years have confirmed much of the ancient prophecies. You witness to the fact that out of death and desolation is emerging a new Land... a "Land of milk and honey," where the future climactic events of history will take place.

"HIS LAND," rich in color and authentic sights and sounds, with a popular musical score composed and arranged by Ralph Carmichael has been called a musical journey into the soul of a nation, and will be shown on Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. at the FIRST BAPTIST Church of Siketon.

"HIS LAND," truly a feast of color, sound and song. An unforgettable experience! The public is invited to attend.

you with an excuse to avoid the social interchange which you might find too challenging.

Dear Ann Landers: The boss had his first grandchild six weeks ago. He is an inveterate shutter-bug. What a terrible combination! Every other day he hands me four dozen snapshots of the baby and stands at my elbow, expecting a comment on each and every photo. How often can a person say, "This is a great picture!" -- or "Gee, he's a big boy!"

To make matters worse, the pictures are lousy and the baby is a mutt.

Several others in this office have been similarly trapped. Any suggestions? -- Tongue Tied

Dear Tied: Hope for a second grandchild soon. The boss will be using a lot less film and taking up fewer office hours when the novelty of being a grandfather wears off.

In the meantime, have a few dozen snapshots of your kids on hand. If you don't have any kids, pictures of your last vacation will do. Whenever he gives you his fist full of pictures, hand him yours. He might get the idea.

Do you feel ill at ease ... out of it? Is everybody having a good time buy you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

About 300 years ago, a Pilgrim father was strolling along a lonely strand when his nostrils were assailed by a tantalizing odor of seafood. Around the bend he came upon a tribe of Indians busy cooking clams and fish over hot rocks strewn with seaweed.

The Indians turned out to be friendly, and they initiated the stranger into the mysteries of the clam bake. Ever since then, Americans have been glorifying the mollusk and its finny cousins with bakes, barbecues, boils and fries that attract thousands of hungry tourists each summer from Maine to California.

New England is the cradle of the clam bake, but its fame has spread down the Atlantic Seaboard and across to the Pacific Coast where the clam has been replaced by the abalone.

Today's clam bake is a far cry from the snack the Indians whipped up for our inquisitive Pilgrim forefather. It has been expanded into a multicourse banquet running the gamut from steaming bowls of creamy New England chowder to succulent lobsters, tangy sausages and finally fragrant slabs of apple pie.

Coastal communities in New York and along the Jersey shore have adopted the clam bake with a few local touches. For one thing, they insist that Manhattan clam chowder is more rib-sticking than the creamed mixture preferred in New England. That dispute has

Head Start Program Gives Children Equality Opportunity

Forty-one children in the Canolou, Matthews and Morehouse area were enrolled in the summer Head Start Program when it began June 15 at the Big Ridge Center, two miles east of Canolou on route E. Thirty-seven finished when the term ended July 31. Three moved away and one dropped out. Most of the students were children who will enter kindergarten this fall, and had had no pre-school training. The others were children who needed special help. Ninety per cent of them were from low income families and ten per cent were from upper income group families.

The children were taught, and cared for, by a carefully selected staff of qualified people, including Miss Louanna Sutton of Canolou, head teacher; Miss Jeanie Griffin of RFD No. 1, Matthews, teacher; Mrs. Audie Davis and Miss Pat McMillan, both of RFD No. 1, Matthews, teacher aides; Miss Evelyn Hardin and Miss Joyce Dixon, both of Big Ridge, high school students assigned to the Center as aids under the Neighborhood Youth Corps; Mrs. Allen Carmack of Delmo, head cook; Mrs. Roland Appleton of RFD No. 3, Siketon, cook's aide; Mrs. W. T. Kelley of Delmo, social service worker; Mrs. Carl Malloy of Big Ridge, bus driver and custodian; Mrs. Carroll Compton of New Madrid, nurse. All employees, except the teachers and the nurse were in the low income bracket, as required by DAEOC.

Through these children, contact was established with 220 people, members of families made for each child (16 girls, 21 boys) from material donated by others of the community, helped at the Center by assisting in the classrooms and on the playground, assisting doctors and nurses, taking children on picnics, sewing for the children and entertaining. There was a total number of seventy-four volunteers, who gave eight hundred fifty-five hours of service. This with donations of clothing and other items was valued at near $2500 as in-kind contribution.

Nutritional meals were served, a snack at 9 a.m. and lunch at 11:30, with extra helpings for those who desired. Each child had the immunizations required for entering school, thorough examinations by a pediatrician with follow-ups for those who needed special attention. Each child was taken to the dentist for examinations and necessary work on teeth. Members of the children's families (with health problems) were referred by the social service worker to the nurse who took proper action to help them.

A summer encampment program to provide a "recreational experience" for families of the six county area, with children in Head Start, was held for five week-ends at the 4-H Camp at Wappapello. Nine families from the Big Ridge area attended the Delta Area Head Start sponsored camp.

Mothers of the children and friends, met at the Center often to sew for the children. Others

ALBERTA KINDER family, one of nine families which including 48 participants attended a weekend encampments through the Big Ridge Head Start summer program.

For Old Hickory, the drawing will be held at Bentley's Boat Dock, Lebanon. Cheatham drawing will be at Dozier's Fishing Dock, Ashland City. The drawing for Barkley will be held at the Dover Elementary School, while Morris Ferry Bridge checking station will be the site for AEDC. Hunters must be registered for the drawing before 9:00 a.m. for Old Hickory, Cheatham, and Barkley, and before 10:00 a.m. on AEDC.

According to Larry McGinn, Assistant Chief of Game Management for the Commission, one additional drawing will be held for hunters who wish to hunt from permanent blinds in the Camden Unit 11, Big Sandy, New Hope, Lick Creek, and Harmon Creek units. The drawing site will be Game and Fish Commission office at Big Sandy and is also set for Labor Day, 9:00 a.m.

"In the past, these areas have been open to temporary blinds only, but we feel that some permanent blinds will offer a convenience to the hunter," McGinn said. "However, the walk-in, temporary blind policy will not change, and hunters will not be restricted to the use of these permanent blinds," he added.

To be eligible, hunters must have a valid state hunting and fishing license, the annual $15.00 Waterfowl-Small Game management area permit, and the Federal waterfowl stamp at the time of the drawing. The combination permits will be available at many license agents across the state, at Game and Fish Commission headquarters in the Ellington Agricultural Center, and at all drawing sites.

Old Hickory hunters who desire to hunt on Corps of Engineers' lands below the Highway 109 Bridge will have the opportunity to draw for a position on Labor Day at Bentley's Dock immediately after the Old Hickory management area drawing. Hunters will not be eligible for both drawings.

Bradshaw Impressive In Professional Debut

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Golden-haired Terry Bradshaw, pro football's No. 1 rookie, has had his baptism of fire in the play-for-pay ranks. Individually, he was a winner, although his team, the Pittsburgh Steelers, lost.

"What an arm," said Coach Don Shula, whose Miami Dolphins beat the Steelers 16-10. It was one of the 10 exhibition games—first this season—in the National Football League. Collectively, the games Saturday attracted 450,674, more than twice the crowds for 11 major league baseball games the same day.

All 26 teams have games for the upcoming weekend of exhibitions, which runs from Friday night to Monday night. A feature will be a nationally televised, by NBC, game at Kansas City Friday night between the Chiefs and the Baltimore Colts.

The Steelers earned the right to pick Bradshaw, last season's Little All-American quarterback from Louisiana Tech, as the No. 1 rookie after posting a 1-13 record in Chuck Noll's first year as head coach.

Bradshaw—they called him the Blond Bomber in his college days—directed the Steelers on their only touchdown drive, something which veterans Kent Nix and Terry Hanratty couldn't accomplish. Bradshaw threw 19 passes, completing nine for 92 yards.

"Considering it was his first professional game, Terry did a remarkable job," Noll said. "We have great hopes for Terry and we do think things are getting better with the Pittsburgh Steelers."

Another rookie quarterback who showed well was Bill Cappelman of Florida State, who went the distance for the Minnesota Vikings. Like Bradshaw, Cappelman didn't direct his team to victory. The Vikings bowed 14-13 to the New Orleans Saints in the Pro Football Hall of Fame game at Canton, Ohio.

The Vikings, with quarterback Joe Kapp holding out for more money, were pleased over Cappelman's performance. "The kid did all right for his first game," said Coach Bud Grant. "We hadn't planned to play him all the way, but the further he went, the better he looked."

Cappelman connected on 19 of 30 tosses for 189 yards. "He hurt us," said Coach Tom Fears of the Saints, one of three Hall of Fame inductees. "We covered his passes quite well, but he froze the ball and that's what kept us in trouble."

Tom Dempsey's extra point kick after rookie safety Doug Wyatt had scored on a 50-yard fumble recovery return with four seconds left earned the Saints their victory.

The New York Jets, with quarterback Joe Namath also in the holdout ranks, got touchdown passes from Babe Parilli and Al Woodall plus Jim Turner's four field goals and beat the Buffalo Bills 33-10. Jim Marsalis, Jerry Mays and Emmitt Thomas each turned interceptions into touchdowns in leading the Kansas City Chiefs to a 30-17 conquest of the Detroit Lions.

The Green Bay Packers, with Bart Starr throwing 71 yards to Carroll Dale for a touchdown, and the New York Giants, with rookie Ed Baker hitting Dick Houston, who also caught a TD pass from Fran Tarkenton, for a 55-yard scorer, deadlocked 31-31 in the only tie game.

The Chiefs scored two touchdowns and a safety and Detroit scored a TD in a two-minute span of the final six minutes—all on less than normal plays.

With KC ahead 14-10, a Greg Landry pass was batted in the air and into the arms of Chiefs end Jerry Mays who rumbled for a 33-yard touchdown with 5:39 left in the game. Thirty-eight seconds later Kansas City cornerback Emmitt Thomas picked off another Landry aerial and sprinted 42 yards for another score.

As if that wasn't enough, another 38 seconds later the Chiefs other end, 265-pound Aaron Brown, busted through the Detroit line to nail Landry for a safety.

Lions linebacker Paul Naumoff apparently got upset over all this and 47 seconds after the safety he tore through the Kansas City line, grabbed the football out of quarterback Tom Flores' hands, and raced for a 35-yard touchdown to conclude the scoring with 3:36 left.

The two sweeps cut the Twins' lead in the West to seven games over the runner-up Angels and eight over the third-place A's.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore and New York divided clinching struggles, the Yankees taking the opener, 6-4 and the Orioles winning the nightcap 12-9. Washington split with Cleveland, bowing 6-3 after a 7-3 victory; Boston downed Detroit 7-4 and Milwaukee beat Kansas City 4-2.

In National League play, Los Angeles won a pair from Cincinnati 7-3 and 13-3; Pittsburgh whipped the New York Mets 8-3; Philadelphia topped Chicago 6-1 after a 4-1 loss to the Cubs; Montreal nipped St. Louis 7-6, then fell to the Cardinals 2-0; Houston shaded San Francisco 7-5 in 10 innings but dropped the nightcap 6-1, and San Diego defeated Atlanta 4-2.

Johnson teamed with fellow reservists Tom Egan and Clyde Wright to engineer the Angels' double victory at Chicago. His run-scoring single and eighth homer of the season gave Wright, pitching on a weekend pass, an early 2-0 lead in the opener and the slender southpaw went on to nail his 15th victory with relief help from Mel Queen.

Johnson stroked two more singles, boosting his average to .323, and scored twice in the nightcap. He trails league-leader Carl Yastrzemski of Boston by three points in the AL batting race.

Egan, who completed his two-week Air Force stint with Johnson, caught both games and poled an eighth-inning homer in the opener.

Chuck Dobson, who had a 6-11 lifetime mark against the Twins, handed them their first shutout setback in 126 regular season games to trigger Oakland's sweep before a season-high Minnesota crowd of 41,339. He fired a four-hitter for his seventh consecutive victory since the All-Star break.

Mincher, discarded by the Twins four years ago, drove in two runs in the first game, then delivered four in the nightcap with his 15th and 20th homers.

Roy White powered the Yankees past Baltimore in the first game, tying it with a two-out, two-run single in the ninth and poling a two-run homer in the 11th.

Rookie Big Plus For Card Staff

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Steve Carlton remains in a rut, but the St. Louis Cardinals still boast pitching prowess from the left-hand side.

Jerry Reuss, a 6-foot-5 rookie, proved it Sunday by spinning a two-hit, 4-0 victory over Montreal after the Expos had roughed up Carlton 7-6 in the opener of a twin bill.

It was Reuss' first major league shutout and his most impressive start since halting the same team on two hits over seven innings late last season.

"He just lacks experience," said Manager Red Schoendienst, who was impressed by the 21-year-old rawboned youth's absence of mistakes.

"He has a definite major league arm. He hides the ball from the batter well, and he pops his wrist like Ben Hogan and Jack Nicklaus do on the golf course."

Reuss, a product of suburban Overland, Mo., thought "My fast ball must have been moving a lot, because they weren't hitting any balls solidly."

"I didn't hang any pitches at all and everything was low, although I did get a little wild and high late. Their two hits were up, too."

Rusty Staub, who singled to right leading off the fourth, and John Bateman, who singled in the seventh, were the only Expos to solve the Reuss deliveries.

In bringing his record to 4-4, Reuss walked six and struck out five. It was his first complete game since stopping Pittsburgh 6-1 June 22.

Lou Brock and Jose

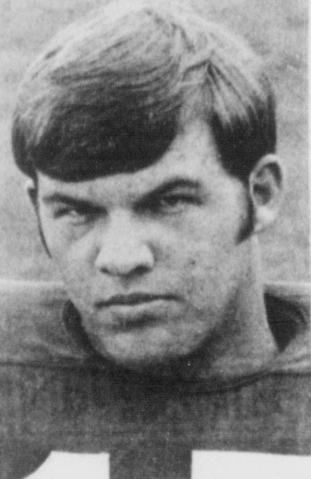

Cardenal shipped in sparkling outfield plays to support the young Cardinal, but such was not the case for Carlton, 6-16.

Ahead 4-2 starting the seventh, the lanky Carlton served up a triple to Adolfo Phillips and walked Staub.

Then Mike Shannon fumbled John Boccabella's ground ball and failed to catch Coco Laboy's pop foul for another error in opening the gates for a four-run Expos burst.

Bateman drew an intentional walk to fill the bases and Bobby Wine capped the uprising with a two-run double.

The Cardinals' Richie Allen was restrained by teammates when he

Farris Makes Switch

MURRAY, Ky. — Bruce Farris, former star quarterback for Sikeston High School, has been switched to linebacker at Murray State University, and the Murray coaches are predicting that he will become one of the finest players at that position in Murray State's history.

Farris, a 6-1, 215-pound sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murrie Farris of Sikeston.

As a quarterback, he guided the Murray freshman team to 2-1-1 record last fall. He was switched to linebacker during spring practice and had soon made the starting defensive unit.

Murray Coach Jere Stripling says he expects Farris to be one of the finest linebackers in the Ohio Valley Conference for the next three years.

The Murray squad will report for fall practice Aug. 26.

attempted to go to the mound after Expos pitcher Bill Stoneman, who nearly hit him with an inside delivery.

Expos Manager Gene Mauch supported Stoneman, who disclaimed intentionally throwing at Allen and who later was conked with a Reuss pitch off his batting helmet.

"You can't intimidate him (Allen), but the only way you can make him vulnerable to hard curves or sliders away is to get the ball up and in once in a while," Mauch insisted.

Sikeston Racers Win

In speedway action over the weekend at the Malden Jaycee track, several Sikeston racers finished high in the competition. Sikeston's Bill Hay, driver of car 97, collected two first and a third place finishes. In C Class, Hay finished third in the First Heat, and then picked up a first in the semi feature race. His remaining first place finish came in the Semi-Feature race.

Phil Todd, also of Sikeston, raced his car, numbered 301, to two top finishes in the Hobby Class. In the second Heat, Todd picked up a first place trophy, and in the Feature event, a second place finish.

Fans Stricken

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A Montreal youth camping club, Escalade, ran into trouble Sunday when nearly half of its 60 members became ill suddenly at a ball game in St. Louis.

Doctors said they had some form of influenza. They suffered diarrhea and nausea. They were in satisfactory condition early today.

Police found it hard to help them because only one of the French Canadians can speak passable English, and interpreters were not available.

The boys, from 8 to 14 years old, were caught in a rainstorm Saturday night while camping somewhere between Chicago and St. Louis.

They loaded their soggy gear aboard their bus and reached St. Louis just in time for the start of a Montreal Expos-St. Louis Cardinals doubleheader.

They cheered the Expos to a 7-6 victory in the first game, but with the Cardinals on the way to a 4-0 shutout in the second game, two of the boys became ill.

A leader appealed to Patrolmen James Lawrence and Robert Leggit, who hustled them all aboard the bus and escorted them to City Hospital.

By that time 10 more were ill, and shortly 13 others were stricken.

It was past midnight before doctors attended to all of them. The physicians recommended the boys be kept in a warm, dry place.

Police rounded up a National Guard official who had a key to an armory and admitted them at 1 a.m. today. Another guardsman turned over all the nickels and dimes in the place to the boys so they could get candy bars and soft drinks from the armory vending machines.

The boys hadn't eaten a meal since Sunday breakfast.

A Red Cross unit was to serve the gang a hot breakfast this morning.

A nurse stayed with them throughout the night. Patrolmen Lawrence and Leggit, who should have gone off duty at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, still were with the boys at 2 a.m. today, helping bed them down.

"They are very grateful," Leggit said. "Their faces show it, but they can't find English words to express it."

A black and white illustration of a man with short dark hair, wearing a light-colored shirt and dark overalls. He is smiling and looking towards the viewer. To his left is a vintage typewriter on a desk. The style is simple and graphic, typical of mid-20th-century magazine illustrations.

Defense Intact

MEMPHIS — When the world champion Kansas City Chiefs take to the turf of Memphis Memorial Stadium on August 22 to face the Cleveland Browns, it will be with the knowledge that the entire defensive unit, which figured prominently in the Super Bowl, will be intact.

The pre-season National Football League battle of grid titans, sponsored by Mid-South Sports Action, Inc., is expected to draw a sellout. Memorial Stadium here holds 50,160.

The Chiefs return everyone from the defensive unit that topped the American Football League in 18 of 29 categories, including fewest points allowed (177), most interceptions (32), and most times tackling the quarterback (48 for 419 yards).

The defense was an example of unity and pride. When the offense was having its problems due to injuries, the burden of maintaining the Chiefs' winning habit was shouldered by the defense. In 17 games, coach Hank Stram was able to start the same 11 men on defense—a key factor in their consistent improvement.

The Chiefs' defense was solidified with the addition of tackle Curley Culp (Arizona State) and the No. 1 draft choice, Jim Marsalis (Tennessee State). Culp's strength and quickness gave the front four an added weapon in the pass rush and containment of running plays. Cornerback Marsalis performed well enough his first season as Pro Football's Weekly defensive Rookie of the Year.

The defense is a blend of youth and experience. Up front tackle Buck

Buchanan and end Jerry Mays are complimented by Culp and end Aaron Brown. The linebacking trio ranks as one of the best in football with perennial all-league Bobby Bell and Jim Lynch manning the outside and Willie Lanier (Morgan State) in the middle.

The secondary is spearheaded by free safety Johnny Robinson, the only member of the squad who has been with Stram since the team's inception in Dallas. Joining Marsalis at the cornerback spot is Emmitt Thomas, who led the league in interceptions with nine. Veteran Jim Kearney at strong safety teams with Robinson to give the Chiefs one of the best pair of deep backs in football.

The front four should receive help from vet tackle Ed Lathamer and end Gene Trosch. The Chiefs could receive additional help up front if tackle Ernie Ladd decides to return to training camp. Ladd missed the '69 season due to injuries.

Rookie hopefuls include third round choice Billy Bob Barnett from Texas A & M and Bob Liggett of Nebraska and Troy Padrig from Texas-Arlington.

Boistering the Chiefs' linebacking corps are vets Bob Stein and Chuck Hurston, and No. 2 choice Clyde Werner from Washington.

Stram's move of Goldie Sellers to wide receiver creates a position in the secondary. Battling cornerback Willie Mitchell (Tennessee State) and safety Ceaser Belser will be rookie cornerback David Hadley (Alcorn A & M), the No. 2 pick; Fred Barry, No. 8 (Boston U.); and Rayford Jenkins.

Grid Drills Begin Sat.

Sikeston football Coach Bill Friday announced the opening of the 1970 football season, set to begin Saturday.

Equipment will be issued Thursday. 1969 Lettermen and provisional lettermen will be issued equipment starting at 9 a.m. Thursday. All other members of the 1969 squad and seniors will be issued equipment beginning at 10 a.m.

Those boys in the 10th, 11th, and 12th, grades out for football for their first time, will be issued equipment starting at 11 a.m. All freshmen will receive equipment beginning at 1 p.m.

Doctors' physicals should be returned in before practice begins Saturday. Physical certificates may be picked up at the Sr. High School office.

Chiefs Have Specialists

MEMPHIS — The world champion Kansas City Chiefs have enough armaments to take the football world again. One of the weapons which Kansas City has at its disposal is a corps of talented specialists.

The Chiefs face the Cleveland Browns in a National Football League pre-season game, here on August 22, sponsored by Mid-South Sports Action, Inc. The game is being billed as the Memphis Super Bowl. A sellout crowd of 50,160 is expected.

Specialists have always been part of coach Hank Stram's winning formula, and the Chiefs have two of the best in placekicker Jan Stenerud and punter Jerre Wilson.

Baseball Academy Open

The Kansas City Royals' Baseball Academy, considered by many the sport's most intriguing new venture in player training in many years, opened its doors today for about 40 super athletes who hope to transform their varied athletic backgrounds into exciting careers in professional baseball.

Thirty-four skilled athletes from 16 states have been signed to contracts as members of the first class of the Baseball Academy, and represent the best of more than 7,000 athletes who responded to some 130 tryouts camps.

Missouri and Texas will have the highest representation when the first session opens. Five young men have been signed from each state while Kansas will have four representatives and California and Washington three each.

Several more athletes are likely to be signed within the next few days upon completion of the American Legion baseball season, while still others will be lured from additional tryout camps which are scheduled for later this summer.

The athletes, aged 17-22, have successfully passed the complicated testing procedures required for acceptance into the $2 million project of Royals Owner Ewing Kauffman, who came up with the idea of the Academy.

"Give me a pool of all the six-foot basketball players too short to make it really big either in college or among the pros, and I'll come up with a Mickey Mantle and a Bob Feller," Kauffman said, when his plan for a Baseball Academy was announced.

Scouts have followed that formula in searching for a class of up to 50. No one was required to have played a day of baseball, but each candidate had to possess such qualities as good running speed, excellent eyesight and fine coordination.

Now the 34 signees, plus those who will be added, get their first look at this new side of professional baseball.

The super athletes will find a completely new $1.5 million facility awaiting them when they report to their new home at Sarasota, Fla., Monday to begin 10 months of class work and thorough study in baseball which will lead to acutal minor league competition next summer and eventually to the major leagues for those who show the best talent.

The Baseball Academy and the Royals' Minor League Complex, which will open next month for the Florida Instructional League season, have been constructed on a 121-acre plot on the southeast edge of Sarasota which has been converted from a swampland to sleek facility complete with five baseball diamonds, two eight-acre lakes plus air conditioned dormitories, locker rooms, dining hall and class rooms.

Richert Will Be Favorite

Jerry Richert

SEDALIA, Mo. — Jerry Richert of Forrest Lake, Minnesota, the only driver to score four national championships since Bobby Grimm went on to win fame at the Indianapolis 500, will be a heavy pre-face favorite when the IMCA championship sprint car auto races open the Missouri State Fair here, Saturday afternoon, August 22.

The sprinters will return for a second appearance on the one-mile track Sunday, August 30 to climax the 1970 Missouri exposition. Time trials will start at 1:00 p.m. both days, and the first of six events at 2:30 o'clock.

Richert is in the middle of a victory skein, following a widely heralded "comeback" after a prolonged convalescence.

Richert displayed championship form again by winning one of the five hotly contested feature races at the Winter National Sprints, at Tampa, last February.

His new No. 63 Grant King-built racer copped another rung on the championship ladder when he won the 16th annual Hawkeye Futurity at Des Moines Saturday, August 22 at 1:00 p.m. The first of six races over the half-mile track will get the in June. His most recent victory green flag at 2:30. The final moved him into the select circle sprint car event will take place among the top 20 and he now Sunday afternoon, August 30 on rests at 8th place in the 1970 the one-mile oval starting at title race standings. A victory or 2:30 o'clock.

two at the Missouri State Fair would greatly enhance his chances of dethroning champion Darl Harrison.

The Minneotan's entry was added to those earlier failed by Chuch Lynch, Springfield, Illinois; Ron Perkins of Wood River, Illinois; Thad Doshier, Topeka, Kansas; and Bill Utz of Sedalia, Missouri. A field of over 40 cars and drivers are expected to begin qualifying time trials Saturday, August 22 at 1:00 p.m. The first of six races over the half-mile track will get the in June. His most recent victory green flag at 2:30. The final moved him into the select circle sprint car event will take place among the top 20 and he now Sunday afternoon, August 30 on rests at 8th place in the 1970 the one-mile oval starting at title race standings. ## I-SC Claims Charleston Championship

ILLMO — Scott City collected championship honors Sunday afternoon in the Charleston Babe Ruth tournament by blasting New Madrid 11-2 in the championship tilt. Vanduser picked up third place in the consolation bracket with a forfeit from Cairo.

Vanduser was honored for the third time in two years as the most sportsman like team, and received the tourneys sportsmanship trophy.

The Out-standing Player award went to Scott City's Tim Noon. Honorable mention, outstanding recognitions went to Scott City's Mike Daniels, and New Madrid's Fred Copeland.

Little League Tourney Begins Tonight At Farris

Sikeston's 15th Annual Little League Tournament will get under way tonight at Farris Field with three games on the opening schedule. Thirteen teams are scheduled for play in the 11 and 12 year old tournament that will be concluded Saturday, August 15. Sikeston has three entries in the tournament this year.

Tonight's first game will find New Madrid and the Sikeston American A 1 Stars clashing at 6:30. The following contest will be between Oran and Charleston, scheduled to begin at 8:00. The final game of the evening has Richland taking on the Sikeston National Aces at 9:30.

No wonder we'll give you 20¢. We invited thousands of people to taste many well known diet soft drinks. In two out of three tests they picked TAB as the best tasting. TAB, without cyclamates, is a new kind of diet soft drink: a little sugar made it oh, so delicious—without a lot of calories. TAB has the taste the people picked.

Note: New Tab contains 1.5 grams carbohydrates and 6 calories per fluid ounce. Since new TAB now contains some sugar it is not for use by diabetics without the advice of a physician. You'll find the correct ingredients for new TAB without cyclamates on all cans, on the wrappers of no-deposit, no-return bottles and on all bottle caps.

However, you may find some returnable bottles still have the old cyclamate formula etched on the glass. Please disregard this incorrect information and look for the new, correct ingredients on the bottle cap or carton.

In The Middle with Dan Whittle

DESCRIPTION OF A FRIEND

A man of integrity.
A man who patronizes his country.
A man who unselfishly serves others.
An honest man.
A compassionate man.
A gentleman.
But most of all—A Man.
Harris D. Rodgers is all of the above—and more.

He is retiring this year as presiding judge of Scott County. Many comments stating the qualities of Judge Rodgers have been heard from associates who down through the years have become friends to the judge. The words they chose to describe Rodgers are appropriate and befitting, but it is the manner in which Judge Rodgers is spoken of that reveals their true feelings.

"I have known him since I was a boy. Other than my father no other man has had greater effect on me. He is a man of great wisdom, reason and moderation. By that I mean he can listen to others, their problems. He is a gentleman in the old sense of the word. Back when the word gentleman meant exactly that."

So stated by Prosecuting Attorney Thomas R. Gilmore. Judge Rodgers recently stated he would be insulted if offered any incentive by a company to influence his decisions on the county court. "He would be insulted. He is the most honest man I know," So said John Dennis, the sheriff.

Another of Judge Rodgers' friends found it hard to give a description, but in so doing he did it splendidly.

"It is hard to describe someone like him because he is just not like other people. He is a man motivated to do the right thing. You can put trust in him. And this is at a time when you can't trust anyone or anything. 'You always hear in campaigns that someone is qualified, honest, capable, willing. Most people put things like that on their posters because they don't know anything else to say. In his case you say those things and it applies."

"In my dealings with the judge in asking him about controversial subjects, you never question he is telling you anything but the truth. You can count on that."

As declared by Mike Shain, a newsmen.

The judge's tenure on the County Court dates back to 1962 and will conclude Jan. 1. He leaves some mighty big boots to fill. And some mighty clean boots.

8 Injured on Roads

Area highway accidents sent eight to hospitals over the weekend. Three were in one accident near Cardwell.

Injured Saturday at 9:55 p.m. in Dunklin County, nine-tenths mile south of Cardwell on route F, were three when a 1966 Chevrolet, driven by Olean Christine Holcomb, 43, route one, Cardwell, attempted to pass a 1967 Oldsmobile, driven by John R. Crews, 47, Oklahoma City, as the Holcomb car started to make a left turn and was struck in the rear by the Crews car, the state patrol reported.

Two passengers in the Crews were injured—Hilda Crews, 45, cuts on her head, and Mark Crews, 12, fractured left arm. Both were from Oklahoma City and were taken to the Paragould hospital.

Yvonne Michelle Holcomb, 9, Cardwell, received cuts on her face. She was taken to a Cardwell physician and treated for cuts on her face.

Ronald Joseph Lee, 23, route one, Poplar Bluff, driver of a 1970 Honda motorcycle, was injured Saturday at 7:30 p.m. on highway 142, one half mile south of Poplar Bluff, when he struck a large dog crossing the road throwing him from his vehicle. The animal was killed.

Lee received a fractured right thumb and cuts and was taken to Doctors hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Helen Bush, 50, Perryville, passenger in a 1968 Volkswagen, received head and leg injuries in an accident Saturday at 11:05 a.m. on highway 61, three miles north of Perryville.

A 1963 Chevrolet, driven by Charles Wibbenmeyer, 19, Perryville, stopped to make a left turn, and the Volkswagen stopped behind the Chevrolet, when a 1966 Pontiac, driven by Joan Emmendorfer, 20, Perryville, ran into the rear of the Volkswagen, knocking it into the rear of the Chevrolet, the patrol said.

The driver of the Pontiac was given a summons for careless and imprudent driving, the patrol said.

The Bush woman was taken to Perry County Memorial hospital, Perryville.

Geraldine Baumgartner, 47, Liberty, driver of a 1969 Plymouth, received a sprained back and neck, Sunday at 11:30 a.m. on highway 61 at Hayti. She was taken to Pemiscot County Memorial hospital in Hayti.

A 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Patricia Payne, 36, Belleville, Ill., stopped for a left turn, when 1970 Camaro, driven by Archie Davis, 28, Champaign, Ill., stopped behind the Payne car. The Plymouth then came behind the Camaro and knocked the Camaro into the rear of the Payne car, the patrol said.

Milton Marshall, 27, Chicago, driver of a 1966 Mustang, received cuts on his head and possible internal injuries Sunday at 6 a.m. on Interstate 55, one and one-half miles north of Portageville.

The patrol said the Mustang was traveling at high speed, went out of control, ran into the median and then into a deep ditch.

Marshall was taken to Pemiscot County Memorial hospital in Hayti.

Hobert Aaron, 30, Hayti, was injured in a one-car accident Sunday at 1:30 a.m. on route B, three miles north of Pascola in Pemiscot county.

He was driving a 1967 Ford, when he lost control, left the road and struck a concrete culvert.

He received a possible broken hip and left elbow, and cuts on his arm and forehead.

The patrol said he was given a summons for driving while intoxicated.

Malden Tots Win

Dance Prize

By BRENDA MOCK
DEXTER — The Dexter Jaycees held their 8th annual Home Show Talent Contest Friday at 7:30 p.m. on the Armory grounds with Bill Garner acting as master of ceremonies. Glen Tucker served as home show chairman.

The competition for the talent show was divided into four groups with a $25 first place prize for each group. The groups were dance, solo, group vocal, and bands.

In the dance group, Ann and Amy Wieland, both 11 of Malden, won with a lively tap dance number.

The solo division was won by Deborah Kay Collins, Sikeston, with a medley of popular songs.

Four women and a man from Jackson formed the Gospel Tones who took first place in the vocal group division. They were Mrs. Shirley Farrow, Mrs. Glenda Kitchen, Mrs. Emmogene Ratliff, Mrs. Shirley Metcalf, and Steve Gill. Their song was "Jesus Was A Soul Man".

John Christian and Friends of Sikeston sang and played "Take A Load Off Fanny" to win the band group.

Judges for the events were Sandy Douglas, Jean Rahm, and Howard Jones, all of Dexter.

Saturday night the Jaycees gave away a $150 record cabinet and an AM and FM radio. Merchants held a drawing to give away prizes.

Feeling Supreme Court Underworked Overpaid Expressed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders have wondered aloud whether Supreme Court justices aren't underworked and overpaid.

The comments were sparked Wednesday when Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said the high court should act before the start of the school year to clear up practical problems created by desegregation rulings.

But the court is in recess until October.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., asked, "Why is it the Supreme Court has to take three months off every year? It is a co-equal branch of the government. Does the President get three months off? Does the Congress get three months off?"

"The court has fallen on lackadaisical ways over the decades," said Minority Leader Hugh Scott, R-Pa., "Sixty thousand dollars is a lot of money."

Workshop on City Sales Tax Wednesday

POPULAR BLUFF — City officials from Southeast Missouri will gather here Wednesday night for a regional division meeting of the Missouri Municipal League at the Holiday Inn. Mayor Sidney Jones of Fredericktown will preside. Members of the staff of the league will conduct a workshop on the city sales tax. Cities in the division are in Ste. Genevieve, Perry, St. Francois, Madison, Wayne, Butler, Ripley, Bollinger, Cape Girardeau, Scott, Mississippi, New Madrid, Dunklin, Pemiscot, Stoddard, and Iron counties.

Hearnes Keenly Disappointed by Toll Road Defeat

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes showed keen disappointment over Tuesday's sharp defeat of his proposed constitutional amendment to use public highway funds to help finance toll roads.

He said he still thinks toll roads provide a valuable way to give the traveling public quick and safe highways. He blamed the "misinformation" he said opponents gave the public for the defeat.

"You'd have as much chance of swimming the Missouri River from Kansas City to St. Louis" as convincing the voters the opponents were wrong," Hearnes said.

A mouse has already been saved from leukemia. Help us save a man.

For years, you've been giving people with leukemia your sympathy. But sympathy can't cure leukemia. Money can. Give us enough of that, and maybe we'll be able to do for a man what has already been done for a mouse.

OLD FARM EQUIPMENT used in the Delta area, including side harrow, an 80-year old Georgia single stock plow, block scraper, and one horse turning plow displayed at open house at University of Missouri Delta Research and Extension Center, Portageville, are familiar to A. C. Templeton, 72, Sikeston, left, and L. B. Croom, route one, Hayti. In the background modern farm equipment is displayed.

TO COMPARE THE OLD with the new farm equipment at the University of Missouri Delta Research and Extension Center open house at Portageville, a John Deere walking cultivator, an ox yoke placed on a wheel, and a horse collar were displayed. Mrs. Thelma Harmon, entomology lab technician sits on a side saddle. The equipment was loaned for display by Son Rone, Portageville.

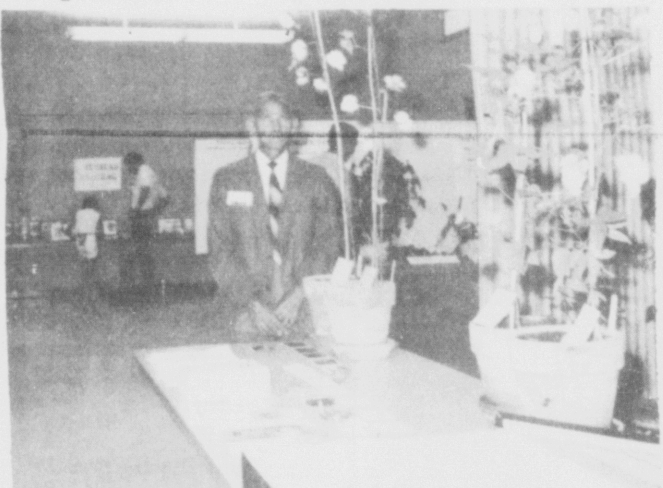

Triborough Bridge at New York City is 3.5 miles long.

SHELLY FISHER, seated and Joyce Elrod, lab technicians in the soil testing laboratory at the University of Missouri Delta Research and Extension Center, Portageville, using an atomic absorption spectrophotometer for a potassium reading at open house. The laboratory makes 7,000 soil tests annually for 3,500 farmers in 11 counties. In addition to seven conventional measurements for phosphorus, organic matter, potassium, calcium, magnesium, PH and lime requirement, the lab is equipped for soil zinc testing. This year $14,000 of the latest sophisticated equipment has been installed to afford Delta farmers the finest soil testing facilities.

A MAIL CARRIAGE pulled by mules, used by Son Rone, route two, Portageville to deliver University of Missouri agriculture bulletins to farmers in 1919 displayed at open house Friday at University of Missouri Delta Research and Extension Center, Portageville, in observance of the 100th anniversary of the College of Agriculture at Columbia.

COTTON CLASSIFICATION DISPLAY at the University of Missouri Delta Research and Extension Center showing 12 classes from good middling to bolley cotton. Loyd Treece, Sikeston, technician in charge of cotton breeding describes the display. Open house was held at the center in observance of the 100th anniversary of the College of Agriculture at Columbia.

A. C. TEMPLETON, 72, Sikeston, a 23-year employee of the University of Missouri Extension Service, stands beside a 1918 Minneapolis-Moline tractor at open house at the University of Missouri Delta Research and Extension Center, Portageville.

Agriculture Centennial Observed

PORTAGEVILLE — The 100th anniversary of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture at Columbia, was observed Friday with open house at the University of Missouri Delta Research and Extension Center.

Hundreds of Bootheel area residents visited the center and viewed the display booths, slide programs and exhibits which included cotton breeding, soil testing, soil fertility research, entomology, weather science, weed control, sorghum breeding, livestock, vegetables and small grains.

Old farm equipment, tractors, plows, harrows, and cultivators were displayed, as well as modern new equipment.

Largest Meteor Crater

The world's largest meteor crater is the Coon Butte crater in northern Arizona. It is 4,150 feet in diameter and about 575 feet deep. The crater was formed about 25,000 B.C.

CLARENCE H. PENNING, Lilbourn, left, attending the open house Friday at University of Missouri Delta Research and Extension Center, Portageville, discusses with Hank DiCarlo, horticulturist, benefits of modern management and agricultural methods used in variety development, fertilizing and research.

The poinsettia was named for the late Jole R. Poinsett of Charleston, S.C., U.S. Minister to Mexico, who introduced the flower to the United States about 1830.

Osco Drug To Open New Store Here

Osco Drug is planning to open a 10,300 square foot self-service drug store in the Kingsway Plaza Shopping Center. The announcement was made by Richard Cline, President of Osco Drug, a wholly owned subsidiary of Jewel Companies, Inc. The new Osco Drug store will have the latest in decor, with merchandise presented in the new and exciting shop concept fashion.

Osco had its beginning in 1937 in Rochester, Minnesota. At that time Osco, a pioneer in self-service, opened its first store. In the beginning, Osco based its operation in the Midwest serving the consumers in Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois. Growth was slow, but deliberate until 1961. At this time, Osco merged with Jewel Companies, Inc. As a result of this merger, Osco accelerated its growth and expanded its area of interest to include the Northwest and New England. Currently, Osco serves the consumers of 16 states from Idaho to Maine.

In spite of the size to which Osco has grown, the basic philosophy under which each Osco operates has not changed. The consumers in every area served by Osco can expect highly professional service, the latest in nationally branded merchandise, clean, well-operated stores, all at fair prices.

Osco, as a dynamic company, becomes very closely tied to the community in which it serves. Osco will be staffed with 25-30 employees. Most will be hired locally. The manager for the new Osco Drug will be Roland Sorum.

Osco will also add to the community. Many members of the management team and the professional staff will become long term residents of Sikeston. Many will buy homes, trade with the local merchants, become members of local civic and social organizations, and send their children to local schools. The net result is Osco becomes closely tied to the Sikeston community through its employees.

Osco is very proud to make this announcement, and hopes that through its service to the community it can become an asset to Sikeston.

Elevated Fireman's Bucket Retrieves Utility Pole-Sitter

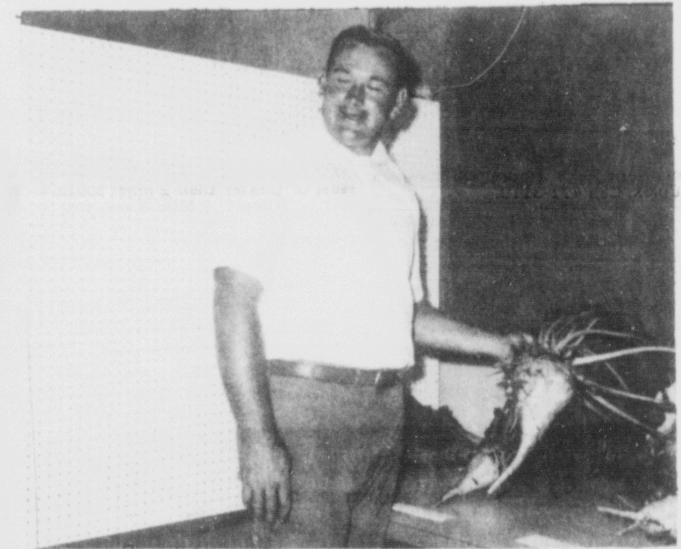

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A young man sat on top of a utility pole crossbar for eight hours Wednesday, refused to jump into a net and finally was forced into a large fireman's bucket elevated alongside him.

Firemen used an aerial ladder to push the man along the crossbar to a fire-fighting truck with a double-bucket hoist. Maj. Charles Lane, a detective, then pulled the man into the bucket beside him.

Deputies took the unidentified man to a hospital for mental observation.

He was spotted sitting on the 7,200-volt transformer crossbar near Bonner Springs, a few miles west of here.

DR. CHARLES BALDWIN and Margaret Clayton are in charge of plant pathology at the University of Missouri Delta Research and Extension Center, Portageville. Their booth at open house displayed examples of plant leaf spot, wilt, crown rot, corn smut and fungi disease.

JAKE FISHER, research technician at University of Missouri Delta Research and Extension Center, Portageville, holds a giant sugar beet exhibited in the sugar beet research booth at open house at the Center. Extensive sugar beet research is being made in the Delta area as a potential new crop.

Britain Informs U.S. of Nerve Gas Concern

LONDON (AP) — Britain has informed the United States of mounting concern about American plans to dump lethal nerve gas in the Atlantic Ocean, the Foreign Office announced today.

The British were acting on behalf of the governments in the Bahamas Islands and Bermuda, which called for strong representations to the United States. But it was understood the British themselves shared the concern of the islands.

A Foreign Office spokesman said: "We have informed the American government of the concern of the Bahamas and Bermuda governments and the whole question is currently under discussion between us."

The British registered the islands' concern Tuesday through diplomatic channels in London. Discussions are continuing here on the diplomatic level.

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — Clark County originally was one of the 10 Bluegrass counties in Kentucky which produced more than 20 per cent of America's hemp in the late 1880's.

Hemp, the same plant which produces marijuana, prized for its hallucinogenic effects by many of today's younger generation, was the state's largest cash crop until 1915, when the market was lost to imported, tariff-free rice.

Defendants.

No. 6283

ORDER OF PUBLICATION OF NOTICE

The State of Missouri to defendants Iola Carolyn Greer and M.
S. Riddel, Jr.,
You are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against you in the Circuit Court of Scott County, Missouri, the object and general nature of which is for the purpose of quieting the title to and the alternative for the partition of the following described real property located in Scott County, Missouri, to wit:

All of Section 28, the North Half of Section 27, the Southwest Quarter

Nation's Governors Open Lake of Ozarks Parley

LAKE OF THE OZARKS, Mo. (AP) — Republican governors generally rate President Nixon's popularity high among the voters, and they hope some of it will rub off on their own campaigns in an autumn race against odds which favor Democratic state house gains.

Democrats forecast inroads into the 32-18 majority the Republicans now enjoy among governors, and the chairman of the GOP Governors Association acknowledges the arithmetic favors that outcome.

"We have a very difficult road with 35 governors up and 24 of them now Republican," said Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, the chairman.

"The odds are against us. We're going to do everything we can to fight those odds."

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, a Democrat, said Democrats could fashion a state house comeback as dramatic as that achieved by Republicans after their landslide defeats six years ago, when Lyndon B. Johnson swept to the White House.

"The odds on are for the Democrats to make some gains," he said Sunday. Hearnes appeared on the NBC radio and television program "Meet the Press."

With elections three months away, the state executives began three days of business sessions at the 62nd National Governors conference in the guarded luxury of a lakeside resort.

Extraordinary security precautions gave a garrison atmosphere to their secluded retreat. Hearnes said there had been no threats of disruption, and called the picket duty and patrols of National Guardsmen and police simply "the old ounce of prevention."

The first controversy facing the governors is a proposal that they recommend broadening of Mayor Robert Riley and Municipal Light & Power Superintendent Russell Ellis (together with three board members) were authorized to attend the Missouri Municipal League meeting at Poplar Bluff August 12.

The board discussed its plan for establishing administrative assistant office for the city and for hiring someone to fill the position. A committee of aldermen was named to set up the responsibilities and duties of the office so that an ordinance can be passed creating the office.

Following transfer of $300,000 from Municipal Light & Power to the city's General Revenue Fund, all current bills of the city were ordered paid.

Hearnes Suspicious Of Revenue Sharing

LAKE OF THE OZARKS, Mo. (AP)—Govs. Robert Docking of Kansas and Warren Hearnes of Missouri readily concede they are in a minority, but both profess deep reservations about President Nixon's revenue-sharing plan with the states and his welfare reform proposals.

"I think it is a worthy goal," Docking said soon after his arrival here for the 62nd National Governors Conference which formally opened this morning at Tan-Tar-A resort on Lake of the Ozarks.

"I'm one of the few governors who feel that before

Nixon Asks Cutback in Paperwork

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has called for a cutback in executive branch paperwork after noting the cost of shuffling paper in the federal government approaches $10 billion a year.

In a memo to department and agency heads, Nixon put forward a plan for the current budget year that he hopes will save the executive branch $200 million and shave off 5 million man-hours of work.

The action affects individuals, businessmen and state and local officials who are required to fill out more than 5,000 questionnaires under the Federal Reports Act.

Norman Peterson, an official of the recently-created Office of Management and Budget, told newsmen at the White House Wednesday night the cost of handling paperwork in the federal government — including the Congress and the courts — currently is estimated at $8 billion to $10 billion each year.

Nixon can do nothing about letter writing and other written exchanges by members of Congress or the judiciary.

But he called for a five per cent cutback in the estimated 100 million man-hours that folks outside the federal government now put in each year filling out administrative forms and inquiries covered by the Reports Act.

Nixon hopes to save $200 million in fiscal 1971 on executive branch handling of the required reports.

Peterson estimated the executive branch currently spends about $41 billion a year processing required reports — but that figure includes income tax returns and a variety of other questionnaires not covered by the laws over which the President has some direct jurisdiction.

During the seventeen years that deaths have been separated to sex, not once have female deaths equaled or surpassed the male. But 93 more males than females in a single year is just TOO MUCH! Men, you owe it to your wives to take better care of yourselves; to drive more carefully; to eat only what the doctor orders; to rest more; and to throw away your cigarettes. Hopeless widowhood is not something to look forward to.

Why do women outlive men? There are many reasons, but most of them unproved. Women are the stronger sex. They undergo less stress and strain during their lives; though if their fight for equality succeeds, this may no longer be true. Perhaps, their hormonal makeup delays aging.
